GOLF TOPICS

(BY ZODIAC.)

"It is an ill wind that blows nobody any good," and certainly the wind that blew last week's rain our way was a blessing in disguise. Fanning courses have a heavy season ahead of them, and need lots of rain at the beginning of the season to keep them going."

On the other hand, the rain was a great disappointment to those who were looking forward to the competitions at Happy Valley. However, they are not to be completely disappointed, for the competitions will be played off on Sunday next. Let one remind those players who intend having tiffin at the Club-house that they must order it from the No. 1 Boy, not later than Friday.

As many as fourteen couples had signified their intention of entering for the mixed foursome last week, and it is to be hoped that the same players and others, too, will be able to enter on Sunday.

Happy Valley was the mother of Golf in the Colony, and in the old days she enjoyed a wonderful popularity, but as her sons grew up they deserted her and she has fallen on evil times. Still there are many who enjoy their game on the old course, and a little encouragement from headquarters would not do any harm. (golf is very expensive, and a number of young men in the Colony cannot afford to be full members of the Club and go to Fanling every week-end. Unfortunately, there is no member on the general Committee to represent the poor golfer, which is a great mistake. The Committee should bear in mind that many of the youngsters will be tu quoque one day and that their services might be most useful to the Club, but if, as juniors they receive no help or encouragement, their minds will become embittered, and they will have no enthusiasm for its welfare. Lack of enthusiasm is about the most conspicuous feature of Hongkong golf at present. I do not mean to imply that our Committee and sub-committees are not enthusiastic; they are, but they are not backed up by the great majority, and I believe the reason I have given above is responsible for this.

I have seen the new Club-house at Happy Valley, and although it is small and not exactly an ideal Club-house we have a great deal to be thankful for. One must realize that the Jockey Club could not house as many longer in the previous pavilion and that the Committee were faced with a very awkward problem—nowhere to go and very little time to go there! Club-houses are costly affairs and are not built in a day; matcheds are not satisfactory. The problem was solved through the energies of the Hon. Secretary and the friendly help of the Jockey Club. For the rest we have to thank Mr. Greenhill and the House sub-committee at Happy Valley for making the best use of the premises at their disposal. Unfortunately, the Club room is very small, but I must call attention to the roof, which commands an excellent view of the whole course and where it is most pleasant to sit and have one's drink at the end of a round. There is an excellent tram service and cars stop by request at the front door of the Club-house, so there is no reason why the Valley should not regain its good deal of its old time popularity as a summer evening course.

"Adversarius" was not very kind to us on Saturday last, but I shall not go for him as I feel certain, from his remarks, that he had not seen for himself, and that his informant knew even less what he was talking about. Under the present scheme of allotting the Valley for different games at different times golf is not dangerous and accidents should not happen. The only difficulty at the moment is the two tennis courts used by members of the Army, but I am certain that the golfers and tennis-players can settle this little question in a friendly spirit, provided outsiders do not interfere.

There is a suggestion afoot to start a library of books on golf, and if any members have any such books that they have finished with Mr. A. B. Stewart will be pleased to receive them. Of course no details have been fixed, but I hear the idea is to have the books at Fanling. This, to my mind, would be a mistake. Very few golfers would have time to study them out there. The only people to benefit by them would be those who stay over the week-end—a very small proportion. It appears to me that members would like to take books of this description home to read during the week, and therefore it would be far more beneficial if the books were kept at a central depot in Hongkong.

The Committee are at present compiling a small booklet of revised local rules, bye-laws, etc., for each course. The booklet will also contain a facsimile of the medal cards for each course, giving the names of each hole, with, of course, the length and bogey. The names for the old course at Fanling will remain as they stand, but the new course, Happy Valley and Deep Water Bay are receiving brand new names. At the time of writing the only new names available are those for Happy Valley, which I give below:—

1st hole, "The better hole"; 2nd, "The Gap"; 3rd, "The Corner"; 4th, "Black rock"; 5th, "The Monument"; 6th, "The Turn"; 7th, "The Long hole"; 8th, "Mile end"; 9th, "The Hut."

A well-known firm in Hongkong are having a thousand copies of the rules and etiquette of golf, amended up to date, printed, and these they are generously presenting to the Golf Club, so I presume that every member will be supplied with a copy. There will be no excuse, then, for the indiscretions which are far too numerous on the Hongkong course!

They are making great headway with the new verandah at Deep Water Bay, and I hear that some of this course's patrons have offered to build an additional one on top of the one at present under construction. This will add greatly to the comfort of players during the hot weather, and further relieve the congestion.

The re-constructed fourth hole on this course is now finished and is a great improvement on the old one.

I believe the Committee are busy trying to draft a scheme to simplify the booking of times at Fanling. It is a difficult problem and one which will never be solved to the satisfaction of everybody. Personally, I do not envy them their job, and I doubt very much whether they will be able to do anything at all without a deal of extra expense, which is the one thing they are trying to avoid. If the railway had electric trains to carry 20 people only, run one every forty minutes, and would issue tickets for specified trains beforehand, I think the problem would be solved! But will the Railway do it?

CHINA AND THE PACIFIC CONFERENCE.

[ASIATIC NEWS AGENCY.]

PEKING, August 30th.

In accordance with the resolution passed by the members of the Chinese Pacific Association, Mr. Yen Kung-chao, former Minister of Communications, and now Chairman of the Association, and Mr. Chen Tsen-hsin, Chief of the Investigation Department of the Association, interviewed Dr. Yen, Foreign Minister, in the Wai-chiao Pu, yesterday afternoon, concerning the Pacific Conference and China.

In answer to questions of Mr. Yen Kung-chao, the Foreign Minister said that through the recommendation of General Chin (Premier), a special department has been established in the Foreign Office to make preparations in connection with the Pacific Conference and to prepare the Chinese questions to be submitted. This department is under the charge of Liu Ching-jen and Dr. P. K. C. T'au. The personnel of the Chinese delegation to Washington has not been definitely chosen yet. For the purpose of establishing a close connection and co-operation between the Pacific Association and the Government, Dr. T'au has been named by Dr. Yen as representative of the Foreign Office, while on the part of the Association, Mr. Poh Kung-chao, Chairman of the Association, has nominated Mr. Yu Chen-tze, publisher and editor of the Chinese Republican News and three other gentlemen as its representatives who will exchange views with the Government in order to arrive at a clear understanding on the questions to be brought forward at the international gathering at Washington in November next. In addition to this, the Association has also appointed Dr. Huang, Councillor of the Chinese Legation in Washington, as its special representative in Washington, so that the Association can be immediately informed by cable when important developments occur in the United States, and at the same time, Dr. Huang can co-operate with Mr. Hollington K. Tong when the latter reaches Washington.

Regarding direct negotiation between China and Japan about Shantung, Dr. Yen informed Mr. Yen that there is no truth in the report. Neither the Foreign Office, nor Mr. Ohnishi has ever mentioned this yet.

The rumour about the American proposal for the international control of China has also been denied by Dr. Yen on the authority of the report of the Chinese Minister to Washington.

This official denial from Dr. Yen has at least pacified the minds of the ignorant section of the Chinese people who accept news at its face value and generally start mischief without first ascertaining the truth of the foreign propaganda.

AN AMERICAN CHINA TRADE ACT.

The Publicity Bureau of the Seattle Chamber of Commerce writes:—

After more than two years of effort in Congress to put American business men in China on a competitive basis with their British and other rivals, for foreign trade in that country, a bill known as the China Trade Act has been reported out of the Senate judiciary committee. Twice the House has passed a similar Bill. Senator Jones of Seattle sponsored the bill in the Senate and other Washington State senators and representatives have been solidly behind the bill. The Seattle Chamber of Commerce has taken the lead among coast organizations to secure enactment of the bill. All the American business men in China have asked for some legislation that would enable them to meet British, Japanese and other foreign competition in enlisting Chinese capital with foreign companies for development and commercial purposes. The Dyer-Jones act has been endorsed by many business and commercial organizations of America. Before the war America did business with China to the amount of $50,000,000 a year. In the peak period since then, which was last year, the American trade account with China was $320,000,000. The China Trade Act is intended to further develop this business by permitting American business to attract Chinese capital in associated investment.

WHEN A MAN'S FORTY.

If he has not previously worn glasses, he should see no time in having his sight properly tested.

If he has worn them, he should make quite sure by a scientific test that his glasses do not want altering. This is important. Up to the age of forty the muscles of the eyes will sometimes make up for defect by straining. After forty, the elasticity of those muscles gradually lessens until they become quite lax. The Hongkong Optical Co., Successors to Clark & Co., Refracting & Manufacturing Opticians, located in 65, Queen's Road, Central, have the equipment to test your sight accurately.—Adv.

HONGKONG LEGISLATIVE COUNCIL.
A FULL AGENDA.

There is an unusually heavy agenda for the meeting of the Legislative Council tomorrow afternoon.

Notice has been given of three questions to be put to the Government—one by the Hon. Mr. H. W. Bird and two by the Hon. Mr. H. E. Pollock, K.C., and the Hon. Mr. H. E. Pollock has also given notice of his intention to propose three resolutions which will be found printed below.

There are ten new Bills to be introduced and two bills are down for second reading, though it is intimated that one of them (an Ordinance to amend further the Public Health and Buildings Ordinance) will not be proceeded with at this meeting.

The new Bills relate to the following subjects:—

- 1.—Supplementary appropriation of $1,457,757.74 to defray the charges of the year, 1921.
- 2.—Amendment of the General Loan and Inscribed Stock Ordinance, 1913.
- 3.—Prayer-East reclamation.
- 4.—Further amendment of the Bills of Exchange Ordinance, 1885.
- 5.—To restrict the taking of legal proceedings in respect of certain Acts and matters done during the year and to provide in certain cases remedies in substitution therefor.
- 6.—Amendment of the Deportation Ordinance, 1917.
- 7.—Amendment of the Tobacco Ordinance, 1916.
- 8.—Amendment of the Stamp Ordinance, 1921.
- 9.—Amendment of the Estate Duty Ordinance, 1915.
- 10.—Amendment of Legal Practitioners Ordinance, 1871.

The only second reading to be taken is that of the Ordinance to amend the Crown Lands Resumption Ordinance, 1900.

THE QUESTIONS.

THE SALE OF BUILDING SITES.

The Hon. Mr. H. W. Bird will ask:—
With reference to applications for building sites in non-urban districts, will the Government, in fairness to the applicant who has frequently been put to considerable trouble and expense in selecting his site, consider the advisability of disposing of such sites by private treaty instead of by public auction?

SEA-WATER FOR FLUSHING.

The Hon. Mr. Pollock, K.C. will ask:—
Is not the Report of the Committee appointed to go into the question of the use of sea-water for flushing purposes now ready? If not, when will it be ready? When will such Report be published?

IMPROVEMENT OF THE HARBOUR.

The Hon. Mr. Pollock will ask:—
What information can the Government give to the Council with regard to Sir Maurice Fitzmaurice's Report on the Improvement of the Harbour? Cannot the Government take steps to expedite the obtaining of such Report?

RESOLUTIONS.

THE REMOVAL OF THE MILITARY ESTABLISHMENTS.

The Hon. Mr. Pollock will submit the following resolution:—

That, in view of the shortage of European office and business accommodation in this Colony and in view of the shortage of sites for Chinese business premises in this Colony, it is imperative that the Military Establishments along the Queen's Road should be transferred from their present site in the centre of the City to some other site or sites at the earliest possible date.

TO ENCOURAGE NEW CONSTRUCTION.

The Hon. Mr. Pollock will propose:—
That, with a view to encourage the construction of new houses in this Colony, it is desirable for the Government to pass an Ordinance exempting, for 3 years after completion, from liability to pay rates, any new building, the plans for which may be sent in for the first time after the commencement of such Ordinance.

Also that a Committee of three Members of this Council be appointed for the purpose of considering what measures can be taken:

- (i.) To facilitate the prompt acquisition by applicants of sites which they require;
- (ii.) To facilitate the prompt passing of building plans.

SPORT.

WATER POLO.

Great interest was taken in the match between the two undefeated teams, the V.E.C. and the Club Lusitano, at the V.E.C. yesterday evening, the former winning by 11 goals to 1. Busschaert, well fed by Willehelms, scored 7 goals for the winners, mostly by back-hand throws, which had the Club's goalie guessing overtime. Logan, 2, Radford and Johnston also scored for the Club.

In the game between the Navy teams, H.M.S. Tamar beat H.M.S. Porpoise by 7 goals to 3.

AN AGGRIEVED LANDLORD.
SOLICITOR DOES DETECTIVE WORK.

BEDS SPRING UP LIKE MUSHROOMS.

"This is a case in which a dishonest tenant can profit by the Rents Ordinance to the detriment of the landlord," said Mr. A. H. Crew (of Messrs. Hastings & Hastings) who appeared for the landlord in a Rents Ordinance case, at the Summary Court, before the Paines Judge (Mr. J. R. Wood), yesterday afternoon.

Mr. Crew's case was that premises were being used as a godown and not for living purposes. "The Ordinance," he said, "is not intended to protect godowns and business premises, but, to provide that the ordinary man should have a shelter over his head."

The landlord's case was that, the premises occupied by his firm having collapsed, he was in urgent need of accommodation for his jokis. He had only been able to get very limited accommodation, at prohibitive cost, so, before the Rents Ordinance came into force, he gave notice to quit to a tenant of his who occupied two houses, standing back to back, and connected by openings in the walls—Nos. 41, Des Vaux Road West and 72, Connaught Road West.

Mr. M. K. Lo (for the tenant)—That is why you want to get the houses back. I am glad you mentioned that.

Mr. Crew: We cannot house our jokis some are living at the private houses of the partners in Robinson and Caine Roads. If ever there was a case in which a landlord was justified in getting a little bit of his own property back to live in, this is one.

Mr. Crew described a visit to the premises with his client on July 30th. One thing was obvious,—that No. 72 was used as a godown. The whole place was stocked from floor to roof with goods, with the exception of a very small portion of the second floor where there were three bed-boards. He advised his clients that the tenants could be turned out of this house, as it was not in use as a dwelling, but they could not be turned out of the other. Later he came to the conclusion that a strict interpretation of Section 2 (b) (1) of the Ordinance brought No. 72 within its provisions, as three persons were living there. The local Ordinance differed considerably from the Home law dealing with this subject. The decisions, at Home, looked to "the dominant purpose for which the building was used" but here, apparently, one had only to provide three bed-boards and keep three jokis on the premises to bring a place within the protection of the Ordinance. Consequently, the landlord, in this case, proceeded under the Ordinance.

As I anticipated," proceeded Mr. Crew, "when we inspected the premises, again, last Friday, there had been a wholesale migration of jokis from one house to the other, for sleeping purposes. Bed-boards and fixed beds had sprung up all over the place like mushrooms. But an inspection of No. 41 showed that there was ample accommodation on those premises for all the jokis. In No. 41, the entire top floor is not used at all, and the bed-boards had a fortnight's dust on them.

"That is what I am protesting against in this case," added Mr. Crew. "It is not a bona fide defence, but an attempt to keep a cheap godown away from a landlord who desperately needs housing accommodation."

Mr. Crew mentioned that the tenant's rent had only been put up by $20-$240 to $200 in a year—for some of the most valuable property in Hongkong. This was not a case in which the landlord had been a shark, he had been most lenient and had never "squeezed" his tenants. This was a case of a tenant trying to take every dishonest advantage of an Ordinance that was never intended to apply to business premises. The sign outside the place actually described it as a "godown."

Evidence was then called, and the case for the landlord had not concluded when the Court adjourned.

BANK OF EAST ASIA.

NEW PREMISES COMPLETED.

The Bank of East Asia moves to its new offices, No. 10, Des Vaux Road Central, on Monday. The term "new offices" seems permissible, in the circumstances, for, although the shell of the old building remains, the place has undergone such a complete transformation, under the direction of Messrs. Little Adams & Wood, architects, that recent arrivals in the Colony might very reasonably suppose the building to be an entirely new one.

What happened was that, after the Bank acquired No. 10, Des Vaux Road Central, the whole of the interior was gutted, and the place was given "a new inside." Walls, roof and facade are the same; the facade, revealed to public view in the last few days, looks new, it is true, but this is because the granite has been "punched." Unlike Carpenter, it looks greatly improved under this treatment. The roof, has been extensively re-laid; walls have been strengthened and new stanchions have been put in, so that the building, if not new, in the full sense of the word, is as good as new.

The building has, now, tank-covered concrete floors. The ground floor is arranged as banking premises for the Bank of East Asia, with treasury, book safe, and safe deposit vault of reinforced concrete construction and provided with Chubb's treasury doors. The brass count-top work is locally made.

The two floors above are fitted as offices. All woodwork is of teak and, means fitting in the public space, was supplied by Messrs. Malkin, of London. Modern sanitary arrangements are installed throughout the building.

Altogether, No. 10 is as great an ornament to Des Vaux Road as it ever was in its early days and, internally, it is a great deal better.

RICH TENANTS OPPOSE EJECTMENT.

TUNGWAH HOSPITAL'S CLAIM.

An important action was heard under the Rents Ordinance before the Paines Judge, Mr. J. R. Wood, in the Summary Court, yesterday, when the Tung Wah Hospital proceeded against the Kwong Sang Hong, Ltd., 248-252, Des Vaux Road Central, for recovery of possession of No. 248, Des Vaux Road Central and No. 40, Wing Lok Street.

Mr. C. G. Alabaster, who appeared for the plaintiffs, read a letter received from the defendants on June 4th, stating that the latter had long intended to surrender the premises but had not been able to secure alternative accommodation. However, the letter continued, defendants had recently seen a chance which they might seize and they begged to state that they would vacate the premises on July 4th.

Mr. F. C. Jenkin, who appeared for the defendants, asked that the plaintiffs formally prove prejudice.

Mr. Alabaster said that the letter was a definite agreement to vacate the premises on July 4th. In consequence of that notice the directors of the hospital decided three days later to advertise the premises for letting by tender. A number of tenders were received and the highest for each house accepted. The defendants, however, did not vacate the premises and on August 1st the plaintiffs issued a solicitor's letter threatening proceedings by one of the successful tenderers whose deposit of $500 as a guarantee of good faith had been retained. The other tenderer had not sent a solicitor's letter, but he had asked for his premises, and this action was being taken in order that both might get possession. Mr. Alabaster contended that under the section it was not necessary for him to prove serious prejudice, but merely that the tenant had agreed in writing to quit and that in consequence of that notice the plaintiffs had contracted to let a domestic tenement. That was serious prejudice.

The Secretary of the Hospital confirmed Mr. Alabaster's statement, and cross-examined by Mr. Jenkin, the witness said that on November 9th last year the rent of the Des Vaux Road premises was increased from $180 to $240, and the rent of the Wing Lok Street premises from $185 to $200, both increases starting from December 10th. On January 1st a further notice was sent to the defendants increasing the rents to $225 and $105, respectively.

Mr. Jenkin: That letter stated that if these increases were not paid on that date plaintiffs' solicitors would be instructed to let the premises by public tender?

Witness: Yes.

The defendants did pay?—Yes.

The next step you took was to serve them on April 5th with this notice to quit?—Yes.

You knew at the time that the defendants had sub-let the ground floor of the Des Vaux Road premises to the Yee Hin Bank?—Yes.

You knew also that the defendants were owners of No. 42 and 44 Wing Lok Street?—I did not know.

You knew that when we wrote our letter in the expectation that we were going to get other premises?—Yes.

Our letter of July 2nd informed you that we had been unable to get other premises and asked that we might be allowed to remain in your premises?—Yes.

What was the highest tender for the Des Vaux Road premises?—$450.

And the Wing Lok Street premises?—$387.50.

The period of tenancy?—Three years in each.

Why, having increased, on December 10th, did you write us notice to quit on April 5th?—That was the directors' decision.

Witness further stated that no other tenants had been treated in the same way as the defendants. The defendants circulated notices stating that the Hospital had not treated them fairly.

The managing director of the Kwong Sang Hong, Ltd., a manufacturing drug and toilet requisite firm, said apart from the ground floor, which was sub-let in November last to the Yee Hin Bank, No. 248, Des Vaux Road was used for as a store, and the rest for domestic purposes, also the greater part of No. 42 and 44. After receiving notice to quit defendants gave notice to their sub-tenants, but all asked for further time as they could not get new premises.

Cross-examined by Mr. Alabaster, the managing director admitted that his firm had a large number of other premises which could be used for domestic purposes. He was aware that the increased rent had been sanctioned by the Secretary for Chinese Affairs.

In answer to Mr. Jenkin, the witness said that his firm was prepared to pay any reasonable rent, and pay compensation to anyone to whom it might be acceptable, if it could retain the premises. The question of the third parties then arose, how they were to be protected or compensated, if an order were made in favour of the defendants.

Mr. Jenkin addressed the Judge at considerable length, asking his Honour to make a judicial statement on the paragraph in the Ordinance worded "Or shall have agreed in writing to quit" which he asserted caused hardship to the tenant who had acted decently by acknowledging notice to quit, but protected the sub-tenant who made no such acknowledgment.

Mr. Alabaster, in his address submitted that no case had been established for action under the Ordinance.

Giving judgment, his Honour said: The plaintiffs have clearly brought themselves within the proviso of sub-section D of section 4, section 1, and they are entitled to their order. The defendants have asked the Judge to suspend the order for three months to suspend the order being that of hardship to the grounds and the other, an allegation of arbitrary conduct brought against the plaintiffs, the Tung Wah Hospital. It appears that in January last the defendants issued a printed circular, to their shareholders, who, number, several hundred in which they complained that the

MOTOR PROSECUTIONS.
A HEAVY SUMMONS LIST.

Mr. R. E. Lindsell dealt with a heavy list of summonses against motor-car drivers at the Magistracy, yesterday.

The driver of motor-car No. 370, owned by Mr. C. Montague Ede, was charged with having left the car unattended in Pedder Street, outside Jardine, Matheson's, from 3.15 to 3.35 p.m., on Monday. The defendant said that the coolie who was in charge of the car while he was having a wash left it for a few minutes only to get some water to wash the car. A fine of $5 was imposed.

For a similar offence at the same place and time, the driver of motor-car No. 493, owned by the Palace Garage was also fined $5.

JAPANESE DRIVER.

The driver of motor-car No. 30, owned by the United Motor Car Company was charged with reckless driving in Caine Road.

Inspector Garrod said that the defendant made the corner at the top of Shingwong Street at fully 25 miles an hour. He did not sound his horn in spite of the fact that there were several chairs about. When the witness signalled to him, the defendant pulled up in 25 yards. The defendant had a breakdown gang on board, and was going out to bring in a damaged car.

When asked to plead, the defendant said that he was Japanese and understood very little English or Chinese. His speedometer was broken and he could not say at what speed he was going. The case was remanded for a week.

SPEEDING DISCOURAGED.

Mr. M. A. Hancock, of Holts wharf, was charged with reckless driving on Bonham Road at 8.10 p.m., on August 22nd.

Defendant said that he had not been warned that he would be charged for speeding, or he would have shown his speedometer to the prosecuting sergeant. Inspector Garrod said that the defendant passed him on Caine Road about half a mile from where the sergeant stopped him, and he was going at fully 20 miles an hour then. He would have summoned the defendant had not the sergeant done so.

Defendant said that it was dark, and it was hard to estimate speed. He might have driven at between 16 and 20 miles, but he did not think he was causing any danger to the public at that particular time. He admitted two previous convictions in connection with the same cycle. He was fined $25.

A driver employed by the Russell Street Garage was charged with reckless driving in West Point at 9 p.m., on August 21st, and with having taken out motor-car No. 344, owned by Mr. E. A. M. Williams, without permission. He was fined $20 on the first charge, and $10 on the other.

For driving on the wrong side of the road and failing to stop, the driver of motor-car No. 479, owned by the Connaught Garage, was fined $10.

The driver of motor-car No. 77, charged with reckless driving in West Point at 10.45 p.m., on the 21st, was fined $15.

The driver of motor-car No. 78, owned by the Connaught Garage, was charged with reckless driving in Queen's Road West, and fined $10.

A Dragon Garage driver, who was charged with the reckless driving of car No. 3 in Bechers Street, on the night of the 21st, was fined $15.

The driver of motor-car No. 145, owned by the Mercury Garage was charged with having driven the car on Shaikwan Market Road without permission. Sergt. Mair said that he was the passenger on the car. He left the car at the bridge and walked into Shaikwan village. The defendant was told to wait for him beyond the bridge. The defendant said that he thought because his car was engaged by a police officer, he was entitled to drive into the village. He stopped as soon as the Indian Sergeant spoke to him. Discharged with a caution.

NOT ENOUGH LIGHTS.

"For having insufficient head lights and no rear light, while driving in Queen's Road West, at 8.15 p.m., on the 18th, the driver of car No. 81 owned by the Breezy Garage was fined $5.

The driver of motor-car No. 7, owned by the Dragon Garage, who was remanded last week, on a charge of having driven the car with no lights from Chinwan to the Garage, was the last man called. Inspector Garrod said that he had got into communication with Sergt. Brennan, and the latter said that the defendant reported to him that his lighting gear had gone out of order, and as it was a bright moonlight night, he advised the man to drive carefully back to the garage. Discharged with a caution.

Action of the hospital in raising their rent was not likely to commend itself to public approval locally. In my opinion, when this matter came to the notice of the directors of the hospital they were entitled to resent it and to express their resentment by giving notice as they did to the defendants to quit the premises. After the notice to quit negotiations proceeded between the parties and continued for some time apparently on a friendly footing, no further mention being made of the alleged arbitrary action of the hospital in the letter written by the defendants on June 4th which contained their agreement to quit on which the plaintiffs have based their claim. The allegation has been renewed in this Court and the fact that it has been made here will naturally lead to a more exact scrutiny of the defendants' claim for the indulgence in respect of hardship. As the question of hardship I am led to suspect that it is more commercial than domestic. Also in considering the position of the defendants I have to consider the position of the third parties to whom the hospital is under contract. It is clear from the evidence that the defendants themselves have under their control a large number of premises which they can adapt in an emergency for the accommodation of their employees at present accommodated in the Tung Wah Hospital's premises. I propose to make the order but to suspend it for seven days. Judgment for plaintiffs with costs.

HONGKONG HOTEL COMPANY, LTD.

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that an EXTRAORDINARY GENERAL MEETING of the above Company will be held at the HONGKONG HOTEL, Pedder Street, Victoria in the Colony of Hongkong, on WEDNESDAY, the TWENTY-SEVENTH DAY OF JULY, 1921, at Noon, for the purpose of considering, and, if thought fit, approving the draft new Memorandum of Association of the Company which will be submitted to the Meeting. A print of such draft new Memorandum of Association of the Company may be seen at the Company's Registered Office in the Hongkong Hotel, Pedder Street aforesaid, and a comparison of the print of the existing Memorandum of Association with the print of the draft new Memorandum of Association will show wherein the draft new Memorandum of Association differs from the existing Memorandum of Association. Should the Meeting approve of such new Memorandum of Association with or without modification, the subject Resolution will be proposed as an Extraordinary Resolution, namely—

(1) That the provisions of the Company's Memorandum of Association with respect to its objects be altered so as to read as shown in the print signed for the purpose of identification by the Chairman of this Meeting and also for the following further purposes, namely—

For the purpose of considering, and, if thought fit, approving the draft new Articles of the Company which will be submitted to the Meeting. A print of such new Articles and a print of the existing Articles may be seen at the Company's Registered Office in the Hongkong Hotel, Pedder Street aforesaid. In such print the portions of the proposed new Articles which differ from the existing Articles are indicated by underlining in black ink and by marginal notes. Should the Meeting approve of such new Articles with or without modification, the subject Resolution will be proposed as an Extraordinary Resolution, namely—

(2) That the new Articles already approved by this Meeting and for the purpose of identification subscribed by the Chairman thereof, be and the same are hereby adopted as the Articles of the Company to the exclusion of and in substitution for all the existing Articles thereof.

AND NOTICE IS HEREBY ALSO GIVEN that a SECOND EXTRAORDINARY GENERAL MEETING of the Company will be held at the HONGKONG HOTEL, Pedder Street aforesaid, on SATURDAY the THIRTEENTH DAY OF AUGUST, 1921, at Noon, for the purpose of receiving a report of the proceedings at the above mentioned Meeting and of confirming, if thought fit, as Special Resolutions, the above mentioned Resolutions (Nos. 1 and 2).

Should the first of the above Resolutions (No. 1) be confirmed as a Special Resolution by the requisite majority, the alterations in the Company's Memorandum of Association, consequently approved, will be submitted to the Supreme Court of Hongkong for confirmation.

AND NOTICE IS HEREBY ALSO GIVEN that the said SECOND EXTRAORDINARY GENERAL MEETING to be held as aforesaid will be continued for the purpose of considering, and, if thought fit, passing the following further Resolutions as Extraordinary Resolutions, namely—

(3) That each of the existing 20,000 fully paid up shares of $50 each constituting the Company's present Capital of $1,000,000 be divided into 5 fully paid up shares of $10 each so as to make such Capital $1,000,000 consisting of 100,000 fully paid up shares of $10 each.

(4) That after the division aforesaid, the Capital of the Company be increased from $1,000,000 consisting as aforesaid, to $2,500,000 divided into 250,000 shares of $10 each by the creation of 150,000 new shares of $10 each—such new shares (subject as hereinafter mentioned) to be issued at such time or times and on such terms and conditions in every respect as the Company's Board of Directors may think fit.

(5) That it is desirable to capitalise the sum of $1,000,000 being part of the undivided profits of the Company standing to the credit of the General Resolving and accordingly that for the purpose of effecting such capitalisation such sum of $1,000,000 be distributed as bonus among the shareholders of the Company in proportion to the shares in the Company's present Capital of $1,000,000 held by them respectively on the date hereinafter referred to, and that a bonus be declared accordingly. And further that the Company's Board of Directors be and they are hereby authorised to satisfy such bonus as far as possible by the distribution in manner aforesaid of 100,000 shares of $10 each credited as fully paid up among the persons who are registered as the holders of the shares constituting the Company's present Capital of $1,000,000 on such date as the Company's Board of Directors shall decide—such last mentioned shares to rank pari passu with the shares constituting the Company's present Capital of $1,000,000 in respect of all profits of the Company earned since the 31st December, 1920, and such distribution to be in satisfaction of the aforesaid bonus.

AND NOTICE IS HEREBY ALSO GIVEN that a THIRD EXTRAORDINARY GENERAL MEETING of the Company will be held at the HONGKONG HOTEL, Pedder Street, on WEDNESDAY, the THIRTY-FIRST DAY OF AUGUST, 1921, AT NOON, for the purpose of receiving a report of the proceedings at the above mentioned Meeting in so far as regards Resolutions Nos. 3, 4 and 5 above and of confirming, if thought fit, such last mentioned Resolutions as Special Resolutions.

Dated this Fourteenth day of July, 1921.

By Order of the Board,

J. H. TAGGAET,
Manager. [1382]

THE MOPLAH RISING.

Those unacquainted with the topography of Malabar, where the Moplahs have, apparently, risen en masse against British authority, and with the history of the Moplahs themselves, are likely to be led away by Reuter's messages into ascribing a larger area to the scene of the disturbances than is actually the case. The district of Malabar is, comparatively, only a small portion of the vast tract of territory commonly known as Malabar or the Malabar Coast. The district, 5,588 sq. miles in area, in the South-West of India, is fairly thickly populated, and the Hindu population is largely in excess of the Mohammedan. The Moplahs are an ethnological puzzle. They are traditionally believed to be descendants of early Arab settlers, but they show little or no trace of the Arab temperament at its best. They are physically, even, inferior to the Arabs, but in their passionate aversion from a disciplined life, they certainly approximate in character to the Bedouins of the desert. Partly, perhaps, to make good their claim to Arab or Bedouin descent, and possibly, also, because they can maintain themselves easily among the peaceful and law-abiding Hindu peasantry by terrorising it, the Moplahs have become incorrigible vagabonds. With the Moplahs, who number about a million and are found mostly in Malabar, violence against their docile Hindu neighbours, on the slightest pretext based on quasi-religious grounds, has become an established principle of life. The efforts of their neighbours to placate them have only encouraged the Moplahs to persist in their blackmail.

An effort was made by the British authorities to wean the Moplahs from their vagabond existence. As the Moplahs are undoubtedly daring and fearless, it was thought that a career in the Indian Army would provide them with an outlet for their passion for fighting, and a number of them were enrolled in a regiment, which was exclusively recruited from amongst men of their race. They were, however, entirely unamenable to discipline. In fact, they were found to be a menace to the peace of the cantonment or station where they found themselves. In Bangalore, where the Moplahs were quartered, they went out of their way to create disturbances. Eventually, the regiment had to be disbanded. Ignorant, untutored and unteachable as the Moplahs are, their religion, strangely enough, has made them fanatics of the worst type found east of Suez.

As may be imagined, it is easy to inflame their passions by barrowing tales of Islam being in danger. Such stories, however, have been current in India ever since the Treaty of Sevres was mooted. They, probably, seriously believe that Islam is in danger; that the Sultan, as the stories relate, is a prisoner and "no longer the Caliph of Islam; that the holy places of Islam have been desecrated, and that the Powers are conspiring to deal Islam its death-blow. The unscrupulous among the members of the Khilafat Committees have not hesitated to spread false reports broadcast in India about the intentions of the Powers regarding the holy places of Islam, and the publicity bureaux of the Government have been unable to dissipate the evil effects of the rumours. Hence the Moplah rising. That the Moplahs are asking for Home Rule shows that they support Mr. GANDHI, who has declared himself an upholder of Islam and Turkish power, and whose prophecy of the attainment of Swarajya (self-government) by the people of India is about due—according to Mr. GANDHI—for fulfilment. They probably believe that Home Rule is the first step to the regeneration of Islam and the restoration of authority to the SULTAN.

The Moplah trouble, however, is not likely to spread beyond the confines of the district of Malabar, if steps are taken to isolate the area of disturbance and round up the rioters by a systematic drive. The Native States of Mysore and Travancore, which border on the Moplah country, are not likely to allow them ingress into their territory. The task of rounding up the Moplahs will not be an easy one, as obviously they are led by men who have some ideas of scientific warfare. Witness the pulling down of bridges, the breaking of culverts and the cutting of telegraph wires. Probably their leaders are men who at one time were in the Moplah regiment and remember the rudiments of the tactics they were then taught. In any case, while there seems to be little justification for anticipating that the spirit of disorder will spread to other parts of India, the measures for restoring order, even within the Malabar district, are likely to take time before producing any results, as the area of operations is extensive and the Moplahs, obviously, have made some effort to organise themselves into roving bands to have been able to attack as many towns as they have done.

[This was written before Reuter's message regarding the connection between the Swarajya propaganda of Mr. Gandhi and the rising of the Moplahs was received. Reuter, however, does not clearly indicate the indirect way in which the Swarajya movement made its appeal to the Moplahs: i.e., through the Khilafat agitation.]

The Kowloon Cricket Club Confort, postponed from last Saturday, is announced to take place on Saturday next, September 3rd.

To-day is the birthday of H.M. the Queen of the Netherlands. The Consul General is holding an "At Home" this morning, and several Dutch firms announce that their offices will be closed from 11 a.m.

Many friends of the Rev. Charles Bone, who for seventeen years was the pastor of the Wesleyan Methodist Church at Wanchai, will regret to read the announcement of the death, in England, of Mrs. Bone, on August 28th. It is a little more than five years since they left the Colony, but they left many friends in Hongkong and the neighbouring territory who will feel deep sympathy with Mr. Bone and the members of his family in their bereavement.

On account of the rain, the opening of the new buildings at St. Joseph's College, which was to have taken place yesterday afternoon, has been postponed to Monday.

The office of the Bank of Canton, Ltd., in Des Vœux Road Central, was gaily decorated yesterday in honour of the birthday of the Chairman of the Board of Directors, Mr. Li Yuk Tong, who has attained his 71st year.

The ex-Super. Tuchun of the Central Yangtze is said to have left $16,000,000 of provincial funds unaccounted for. He is stated to have acknowledged to his successor that he owed Hupeh some money but not such a large sum as was alleged. What he owed, he said, would be repaid. He had telegraphed to Peking promising to make good his accounts with Hupeh. Meanwhile General Wu Pei-fu is in need of three millions to embark on the military operations he has planned in the province, and is trying to squeeze this out of the native banking and commercial organisations.

The Pacific North-west Commercial Commission, which made the trip from Seattle to China, Japan and the Philippines on the maiden trip of the Wenatchee, has made public in Seattle specific observations. The report urges that an essential supplement to the maintenance of a commercial base at Manila is the establishment of American business at Shanghai, which affords the key of the Pacific North-west to North China and upper Asia. The report says: "The commercial agencies of other countries are strongly entrenched at Shanghai, where they have heavy investments and facilities. In addition to the study of Shanghai as a great base for American business operations in North China and Northern Asia, American firms contemplating business in South China should make a close study of Canton and give thorough consideration to the advantages offered by establishing there."

It will interest old Hongkong residents to know that among those mentioned as possible successors of Mr. "Crane" as United States Minister to China was Dr. Stuart Thomson. A New Jersey paper says: "Dr. Thomson was formerly manager at Hongkong, China, of the Pacific Mail and Toyo Kisen Kaisha Trans-Pacific Steamship Company's office, in which position he succeeded the Far East veteran, John Sheffield Van Buren, nephew of President Van Buren. Thomson traveled in the Far East three years; made the tropical round-the-world tour; traveled widely in the Levant, Europe, America, Canada and Latin America; is now chairman of 'Gateway' magazine of Detroit and Jersey City, a labour-capital Constitutional foreign affairs journal. While Thomson is best known for his pro-China work, he has done a great deal for 'Americanization' on an English-speaking basis of literature and law."

THE SANITARY BOARD. PREVALENCE OF RABIES.

A meeting of the Sanitary Board was held yesterday, Mr. G. B. Sayer presiding. There were also present: The Director of Public Works (the Hon. Mr. T. L. Perkins), Mr. C. G. Alabaster, Dr. Graec O'zorio, Mr. Chow Shou-sen, and the Secretary, (Mr. C. M. W. Reynolds).

Beyond business of a routine character, the only item of interest was a discussion concerning the prevalence of rabies, in regard to which the procedure of notification of such cases or suspected cases was dealt with. It was mentioned that, recently, suspecting it of rabies a dog owner shot his dog through the brain. This made it difficult for the bacteriologist, as it was necessary to an examination for suspected rabies that the brain should be left intact. Dogs suspected of suffering from rabies should be handed over to the Police and killed by shooting through the chest.

CABLES.

EARLIER CABLES.
[THROUGH REUTER'S AGENCY.]MOPLAH RISING IN INDIA.
DUPES OF FALSE LEGENDS.

LONDON, August 30th.

There is as yet no news of the British garrison of fifty men besieged by the Moplahs at Malappuram. It is increasingly evident that the revolt was a carefully-planned attempt to paralyse government in Southern India. It is significant also that the Moplah country was the first to adopt Gandhi's Non-co-operation programme and the rebels are at present convinced that a strong force from Afghanistan commanded by Gandhi is coming to their help.

The India Office has issued a statement that the revolt began by the Moplahs resisting a British search party sent to arrest certain Moplahs at Tirunangandi, who were carrying war-knives, contrary to the law.

The following communiqué issued to-night fails to indicate whether the beleaguered garrison has been succoured. A column returning from Malappuram encountered the rebels at Pukattur, when four hundred Moplahs were killed, and casualties being two killed and six wounded.

AUSTRO-HUNGARIAN
DISPUTE.PROBLEM FOR LEAGUE OF NATIONS.

LONDON, August 29th.

While the League of Nations is about to try to settle the Upper Silesian question, the Entente is faced with another Central European dispute—namely, between Hungary and Austria for possession of the West Hungarian district of Burgenland, which is to be handed over to Austria under the Peace Treaty.

Austrian militarism who entered West Hungary apparently with the object of taking over control of the district were opposed by Hungarian soldiers, and in accordance with instructions from Entente officers, returned across the frontier. Now a Vienna report states that Hungarian armed bands commanded by uniformed Hungarian officers and led by Col. Hejjas, leader of the "Awake Hungary" Party, have occupied the railway station at Odenburg, pending negotiations for a settlement of the question. It is reported that the Entente is sending troops from Silesia to occupy Burgenland.

FRENCH WAR-STRICKEN
REGIONS.PROBABLE EFFECTS OF NEW AGREEMENT.

PARIS, August 29th.

The Wiesbaden agreement is greeted in Paris with much satisfaction as heralding a probable substantial improvement in the economic situation in the nearest future through the rehabilitation of industries in the devastated provinces more promptly than anticipated. Germany is bound to deliver within five years up to materials and machinery up to 2,250,000,000 at par value to be used solely in the devastated provinces, leaving French industry full scope in other provinces and outside markets.—Havas.

SCOTTISH CENSUS.

INCREASE SHOWS FEMALE

ENGLISH XI'S RECOVERY.
PLAY AGAINST AUSTRALIANS.

LONDON, August 29th.

At Eastbourne, before four thousand people in glorious weather, the English XI, batting on an excellent wicket, scored 220. Hubert Ashman made 75, including 7 fours. He partnered the South African, Faulkner, for two and a half hours, the combination producing 154 for the fifth wicket. Faulkner scored 131 in 3h.45min. by superb and ceaseless cricket, his innings including a six and 10 fours.

McDonald took six wickets for 38. The Australians in their second innings, have scored 23 for 1 (which leaves them with 130 to win).

SITUATION IN GERMANY.

BE OPPOSED WITH AN "IRON HAND."

PARIS, August 30th.

A Government proclamation strikingly portrays the internal situation. It declares that the Government is gravely concerned because the disintegration of public morals threatens to undermine the foundations of the State, while the tone of a section of the Press reveals a fixed plan by unscrupulous elements aiming at the overthrow of the Constitution. The Government will oppose these elements with an iron hand of unrelenting severity.

HEAT-PROOF TYPE OF GLASS.

MONTEALE, August 29th.

Sir William Pope to-day opened the convention of the Society of Chemical Research, which is being attended by noted chemists from Britain, Canada, and the United States. The scientific papers to be presented include one dealing with a new glass, which the inventor claims admits unlimited light while eliminating heat rays.

WAR IN ASIA MINOR.

KEMALISTS ASSUME THE OFFENSIVE.

CONSTANTINOPLE, August 30th.

The Kemalists claim success in a fierce two days' battle north-west of the Salt Desert, asserting that a Greek attempt to pierce the Kemal front broke down. The Kemalists then assumed the offensive, captured Bilejik, and are continuing their advance. If the reports are correct, the Greeks' flank communications are seriously threatened.

The Icelandic Government has negotiated a loan of 2,500,000 at seven per cent. through British banks.

THAI FAMINE SCANDAL.

A correspondent writes to the N.O.
Daily News:—

Just back from Manchuria, the following are some of the current comments I have gathered from responsible people in Manchuria and the north of China.

The famine-stricken provinces, which number only about 100 all told contributed to the Famine Fund over $25,000.

The nearly 300,000 Japanese all over Manchuria contributed only a few hundreds of dollars, altogether or well under $1,000.

The twenty millions and more Chinese in the same territory contributed only $80,000.

The Chinese Government of China, you report, have collected over twenty millions of dollars and have with this sum only repaid the loan from Foreigners of four millions.

The Chinese—merchants, officials and others in collusion—sent grain free on the trains ostensibly to the famine areas and sold it en route pocketing the profits.

Some of the grain stuff sent was useless for man or beast and had to be destroyed.

Warm-hearted and sympathetic foreigners unused to the poverty of China or still open to its influences unconditionally, exaggerated the intensity of the famine.

Many foreigners including your correspondent will never in future subscribe a single penny to any famine fund in China. The Chinese Government with the minimum of honesty is well able to look after its own people. At present according to all reports all Chinese officials care not a damn for their country or people so long as they can fill their own pockets.

A foreign missionary told me that some of the leading gentry on the field he was working said the officials were scoundrels and ought to be hung; the only difficulty, they said, was that if this lot were hung an equally predatory lot would take their place.

Mr. J. L. PLUMMER seconded.

Mr. COUSLAND asked whether it was proposed that the clauses should simply be added to the old contract, or were they to be considered to be the entire terms of the contract. If the latter, he was afraid there were one or two legal points which had been left out.

The CHAIRMAN: I think the idea is that it should replace the old contract.

Mr. COUSLAND asked that if a contract for goods was made and the shipments were spread over three months, and the last shipment did not arrive in time, could the buyer turn round and refuse to accept the goods? They had had cases taken to Court upon the point and personally he felt rather aggrieved about it. It came under the Sales and Goods Act.

Mr. VAN ANDEL said he had compared the present form with the old one, and found a good many differences. There were two clauses in the old contract which were missed entirely in the proposed one, and he thought it advisable that they should be inserted. The one referred to the question of shades. A couple of years ago they were told by Manchester that they could not expect the exact imitation of old shades of samples, and so far as he knew that had not yet been withdrawn. He thought importers should be protected against deviation. The other addition referred to clause 3. He suggested it should be added that when the goods arrived in the market in an imperfect state buyers should take delivery, and any dispute with regard to quality, shade, etc., should be referred to arbitration. He thought that was the custom in the Colony.

Mr. PLUMMER (as Chairman of the Sub-Committee) said the sub-committee had very carefully considered the very large number of contracts which were at present used in the Colony by various importers, and it was quite impossible to cover everything which some importers desired. As to Mr. Cousland's point, if any portion of the goods were late through unforeseen causes they were covered by common law. If they were late from some cause, for which they were responsible, then he was afraid they had to accept the responsibility.

Mr. COUSLAND: Only for the late portion. Legally, they are entitled to throw back the whole of the goods.

Mr. PLUMMER said that, with regard to the question of a slight deviation in shade, they could refer the matter to the Chamber of Commerce for arbitration.

Mr. VAN ANDEL said that one of the reasons why he mentioned the matter was to see whether the Piece Goods Sub-Committee had considered it.

Mr. COUSLAND remarked that in any sale contract with Manchester they had the clause inserted that late delivery of one portion of the contract did not affect the others.

The CHAIRMAN suggested that the points raised by Mr. Cousland and Mr. Van Andel would be covered, if clause 3 were altered to read as follows: "Any dispute regarding quality, shade, finish, design, packing, delivery, late shipment or non-fulfilment of contract, etc., not settled amicably, shall be referred to arbitrators to be appointed by the Hongkong General Chamber of Commerce and their finding shall be binding on both parties."

Mr. COUSLAND suggested the addition of the following clause: "Late or non-arrival of one or more lots not to affect other shipments under this contract."

The CHAIRMAN announced that the suggestion would be accepted, as part of clause 3, or would be drafted in another clause.

The additions mentioned by the Chairman and Mr. Cousland were agreed to, and the proposed contract, as amended, unanimously approved by the meeting.

THE INCREASED SUBSCRIPTION.

In introducing the next question before the meeting, which he described as "a rather important one"—the increased subscription, the CHAIRMAN remarked that the principle of increased capital for a progressive business was so familiar to members that it need not be labouring.

The Chamber of Commerce was a business which had far exceeded its capital and required increased revenue, in order to carry on its work efficiently. For many years, members had enjoyed the privilege that the Chamber afforded at a really wholly inadequate annual subscription. This fact was enforced on the Committee very strongly during the war years, when work increased enormously. The war had left a legacy which made the work even greater to-day. Times were not propitious, and the question of advancing the subscription had been postponed. Now, however, the position had been forced by the resignation of the present secretary, which took effect at the end of the year.

His labours are so familiar to you all," added Mr. Holyoak, "that I should like to pay them this passing word of tribute, though I hope to have the opportunity, on another occasion, of speaking of his very valuable services over many years, to this Chamber (applause)."

I hope to give you an opportunity of affording tangible evidence of your appreciation." (Renewed applause).

Referring to the work of the Chamber, the Chairman said that when Mr. Williams became secretary there were two committees. The Chairman mentioned eight additional sub-committees now in existence; one on shipping—had 25 pages of minutes representing last month's work. The general committees' agenda had increased from 15 pages to 60. The prepared rigidly to adhere to it.—(Hear, hear). He said that, advisedly, because there had been cases reported to the Committee of the past contract, which had been in force for some considerable time, being partially, if not wholly, ignored by some members of the Chamber, who subscribed to it. It might be that the reports were false. He formally moved the adoption of the Committee's recommendations as to the local standard form of fancy piece goods.

Mr. J. L. PLUMMER seconded.

Mr. COUSLAND asked whether it was proposed that the clauses should simply be added to the old contract, or were they to be considered to be the entire terms of the contract. If the latter, he was afraid there were one or two legal points which had been left out.

THE WAR IN HUPEH.

WOODEN BULLETS AND BLANK
CARTRIDGES.

[CHUNG KAI NEWS AGENCY.]

PEKING, August 17th.

Fighting in the Hunan-Hupeh "near war" was more severe than first reports indicated according to reports received in foreign circles to-day, and this was largely due to the sagacity of General Wang Chan-yuan (the late Tuchun) in providing his enemies with wooden bullets and other useless munitions.

When Wang some time ago was named to put through a unification plan and to assume full control on the Upper Yangtze, he received funds for equipping the forces in his area. He presented a glowing account of his military needs, of his wishes to serve the Peking Government and of his ability to put the programme through.

With the money the Peking Government gave him he bought the Hunan troops' wooden bullets and blank cartridges. In some cases the cartridges were not even blanks in the accepted sense of the term but contained no powder.

The Hunanese knew nothing of this until they were on the fire line.

As a result the total losses in their little skirmish was 5,000 men of whom about 2,000 were killed and the others severely wounded.

The Hupeh men in the Hunan army, however, were better equipped. As a result of this the Hupeh lost several men and there were 2,000 Hupeh prisoners in Changsha alone.

While Wang received no praise from the Hunanese, they are not condemning him openly because to do so means a lack of face.

Chairman also mentioned the daily bulletin and the surveys. The rice surveys were a very big issue and had won a reputation in San Francisco, of which the Chamber might be proud. The Chamber now acted as consular correspondent to the Board of Trade, since the withdrawal of the Commercial Secretary to the Legation in Hongkong. The work of all concerned had increased to such an extraordinary extent that it was a matter of some difficulty, year by year, to find a Chairman who would face the duties associated with the office. Members of committees, also, had to give much valuable time.

"It is purely a business proposition," concluded Mr. Holyoak. "The Chamber is carrying on very large and important work and requires an even larger staff than we are budgeting for to-day. I should like to add that no portion of the increased subscription asked for is to be devoted to the Chamber of Commerce guarantee towards the Commercial Course at Hongkong University for the next five years. That has been found, or will be, entirely by guarantees from members, quite outside subscriptions."

The CHAIRMAN, then, proposed:—

That, from January 1st, 1922, the annual subscription of members be increased, for firms from $50 to $500 and for individuals from $25 to $100, payable quarterly.

The Hon. Mr. A. G. STEPHEN seconded. He said: "I think this is very necessary, though I do not second it with any particular pleasure. This is hardly the time to ask people to add to their overhead charges, but the fact remains that, if the work of the Chamber is to be carried on, in anything like an efficient manner, this increase of subscription is necessary. The work of the Chamber will not get less as time goes on. The neighbouring country is in a state of political chaos and we must have an efficient Chamber of Commerce to see that the trade interests of Hongkong are properly protected. In the quiet old days, very little work was necessary; there was a law of some kind in the neighbouring territories, and we very seldom came into collision with our neighbours. But now China is becoming the battle-ground of conflicting interests, and the only way that some protection can be afforded to Hongkong trade—British and foreign—is to have an alert Chamber of Commerce to point out to the Government any menace that may arise. Your neighbours in Shanghai have realised the importance of this and only lately have raised an endowment fund for the Chamber of, I believe, one hundred thousand taels. Here we do not aim at anything so ambitious as that, but merely ask for this increase of subscription which, I think, you will agree, is absolutely necessary."

Mr. OWEN HUGHES supported the proposal. The Chairman, in a circular had hinted that there might be resignations. Such a thing, said Mr. Hughes, was unthinkable and would be very much to the discredit of the community. Mr. Hughes thought there was a tendency to leave too much to committees and suggested that the whole Chamber should meet quarterly, instead of annually, and that there should be an annual dinner, with a lecture or an address on a question of interest. He instanced the question of military lands as one on which the full weight of the Chamber would be needed, if the War Office were to be prevailed upon to relinquish their hold.

Mr. COUSLAND supported Mr. Hughes' suggestions, and said that a special meeting should have been held, for example, on the piece goods contract, just discussed.

There being no further discussion, the resolution was put and carried without dissent.

Mr. OWEN HUGHES proposed that general meetings of the Chamber be held quarterly, and that a special meeting be called at an early date for amending the constitution.

Mr. COUSLAND seconded.

The CHAIRMAN pointed out that the Committee had power to call quarterly meetings without altering the constitution.

After discussion, the resolution was approved.

THE BANK INDUSTRIELLE.

M. BRIAND ON FRENCH GOVERN-
MENT'S EFFORTS.WHAT THE OFFICIAL TELEGRAMS MEANT.

The Paris correspondent of the Morning Post, writing on July 7th states:—

The collapse of the Banque Industrielle de Chine formed the subject of an important portion of M. Briand's statement last night, before the Foreign Affairs and Finance Commissions of the Senate. M. Briand, in the course of a statement which occupied some three hours of the sitting, revealed that on January 13th, during the Ministerial crisis that followed the fall of the Leger Cabinet, telegrams relating to the position of the bank were sent from the Quai d'Orsay to the French representative in China, and to the French Ambassador in Japan.

The reason for this step was the anxiety of the Government that French influence in the East should not be prejudiced by the failure of the bank. The telegrams sent to the French diplomatic representatives in the Far East emphasized the solidarity of the French Government with the great French banks, including the Banque Industrielle de Chine, and suggested that the Government would do its utmost to enable the bank to meet its engagements. A telegram sent to the French Ambassador in London was as follows:—

"Inform with extreme urgency Governor Bank of England and Mr. McKenna, of London City and Midland Bank, that a syndicate formed by Banque de Paris et Pays Bas and the Banque de l'Indo-Chine has taken in hand the affairs of the Banque Industrielle de Chine, and that the Government is interested in the fate of the bank, whose prospects are assured in consequence of its solid situation in the Far East." (Signed) LÉGER.

Comte de Saint-Aulaire, who had assumed charge of the Embassy in London only three days before, did not deem it advisable, according to the Echo de Paris, to take the step suggested.

Referring to the accusation that has been made here that the Finance Minister, M. Doumer, and his subordinates, were antagonistic to the Banque Industrielle de Chine, and were opposed to the issue of a loan of 300 million francs which the Peking Government earnestly desired to be made in France, M. Briand read the following telegram, dated June 30th, from the French Charge d'Affaires in Peking:—

"The Chinese Government is entirely in accord under following reserves:—First, that the contract shall become void if 300,000 dollars not paid within a fortnight; secondly, that the French Inspector-General for the receipt of stamp duties on guarantee is nominated after the issue of the loan; and, thirdly, that the loan be issued within the next three months." (Signed) MAURAS.

M. Briand explained that this telegram referred to private negotiations that were going on between the head offices of the bank in Paris and certain Chinese personages who were unknown to the French Government, and that the telegram in question was merely sent through the diplomatic channel to save time. M. Briand insisted that the Finance Minister at no time received any request from the Chinese Government regarding the loan in question. The Chinese Government, as a matter of fact, according to M. Briand, offered to hand over to the Banque Industrielle Chinese Treasury Bonds maturing in 1931 to the nominal value of two millions sterling, on condition that the Peking Government was to pay the amount received from the sale of another series of Chinese Treasury Bonds secured on the salt tax, and representing a nominal value of 250,000 sterling. This curious proposal, as one of the newspapers remarks this morning, indicates perhaps the financial situation of the Chinese Government, but in no way corresponds to the loan of 300 million francs. A further blow to the legend connected with this loan is found in the fact that the Chinese in Paris themselves formally placed on record a protest against any such operation.

WHAT KANSU'S EARTHQUAKE
COST THE PROVINCE.

Reuter's correspondent at Peking writes:—Mr. Chen Shan, Civil Governor of Kansu, has forwarded a report of the Kansu earthquake and a list of names of Kansu people who gave assistance which he thinks worthy of official recognition.

The report begins in Chinese historical style by saying that from the time of the Han Dynasty to the end of the Ching House over 100 earthquakes occurred in Kansu. Only a little over 100 escaped visitation by this scourge, and upwards of 1,000,000 families were severely affected. In the last earthquake 300,000 people were buried by the falling hills and numerous draught animals perished.

The Kansu Provincial authorities, merchants and gentry organized a relief society, and money, clothing and medical assistance were provided in limited quantities. When the time came for farm work to be resumed the shortage of animals became a severe handicap. The Relief Society then came to the assistance of the farmers, but again the help afforded was limited by the want of funds. Calls were then received for assistance in rebuilding homes, as the houses had been almost completely destroyed over an area of between 600 and 700 square li.

The Provincial Bureau of Finance then advanced $10,000 from transportation taxes, while 20 per cent. of official salaries, 50 per cent. of postal and telegraph revenues and 10 per cent. of various other taxes were allocated for relief. Finally numerous guilds and public bodies co-operated with the Provincial Government in raising funds.

It is the leader of these charitable undertakings that Mr. Chen recommends for rewards.

PARIS FASHION NOTES.

[FROM OUR SPECIAL CORRESPONDENT, ISABEL RAMSAY.]

PARIS, July 18th.

The bare-backed evening dress is gradually disappearing, though here and there some very tasteful and ultra-risky gowns are worn both at the dressmakers and in society, whose lack of proportion makes one shudder. Lace that is fine and filmy, lace that is old and costly, or lace that is obviously of this season's creation by its metallic appearance, is frequently introduced. It forms a little cape of the Velasquez type that hangs gracefully from the shoulders to the waist at the back, and yet is sufficiently transparent to show the flesh beneath. This idea is certainly more becoming than a wide expanse of bare back. Those gowns that are still low at the back are sometimes given wide and long sleeves to make up for the discrepancy in other parts. These sleeves hang away from the arm but give a grace to the limb that is pleasing. Others have sleeves that only start at the elbow, and of bishop shape, are fixed round the wrist with a similar band of jet beads or gay little flowers to that which encircles it at the elbow where it starts its life. Lace fichus and scarves of the most transparent order are also used (to fill in the gaps caused by the lack of dress, both front and back) on sleeves, and anything of the kind gives a delicate and soft touch that is welcome.

Black, untouched and unattended, is the medium of many gowns for evening wear, and most Frenchwomen have at least one black frock in their wardrobe. For those who like colours, brocades and silver or gold tulle make wonderful dresses for occasions. As a rule they are Grecian in form, showing drapery that hangs artistically from shoulder almost to the floor, with a train that sweeps out far behind, no sleeves, but a shoulder strap of diamonds trimming or flowers.

For the young, to whom dancing is the only recreation considered possible in the evening, there are taffetas frocks with over-dresses or bolero panels of tulle or lace, or wonderful hand-embroidery that makes of the dress a perfect dream. A crêpe de Chine in pale lemon has a full skirt and swinging hips (obtained by tiny frills of tulle) on the petticoat beneath, with lovely embroidery of Maroon and Niel roses worked in beads. An equally lovely frock of rose pink tulle has silver roses whose petals stand right out, one by one, and they make one feel that youth is a time of roses.

A very original dinner dress, black tulle and tulle, was exhibited at a well-known house the other day. Over an under-bodice, none too high, was arranged both back and front a width of tulle that went right up to the neck and was held in place by narrow ribbon velvet in powder blue with long streaming ends. The arms were absolutely bare, although the neck was covered. At the waist a sash of silver tissue, frayed out each side, went under the falling tulle, while the over-skirt was composed of more tulle over the black tulle. From shoulder to hem on the right side fell long sprays of tiny roses made from little pink sea-shells, while stalks and leaves were outlined in silver thread. Over this dress was thrown a long cape, made of alternate squares of satin and tulle. The collar was a ruffle of tulle, and it fastened with one pink rose. There was a hood at the back, lined with the palest rose pink, and this just completed a charming picture.

For the summer holidays frocks of organdie, linen and voile abound. All the palest shades have been employed for these little dresses, which, for the most part, are self-trimmed with plenty of frills and long sash ends. Some are very low at the neck and bare at the arm; others have long sleeves and even a high neck buttoned right up to the ears on either side with tiny jet buttons. In lemon yellow a frock of organdie can be the sweetest affair, and a hat to match with a couple of butterflys—and one black one to keep them company—just gives the right effect.

White linen or crêpe de Chine is delightful for a tennis frock, with a pleated skirt and a long straight and square jumper bodice, plainly hemstitched at every edge. Crêpe Marocain in cream can also form a dainty three-piece costume when allied with pale blue or vieux rose, the short saque coat being lined with the colour that forms the bodice and long sleeves of the dress beneath. Voile in every shade, from cerise to juniper, rust brown to sky blue, can be obtained, so there is no lack of choice in regard to colour for summer dresses. Many of the voile frocks have embroideries woven into the materials—sometimes of barbaric figures, at others old-world designs, while upon occasions one comes across what looks like the arms of a new-born State of Eastern Europe mingled with heraldic devices of the Western aristocracy, all worked up in silver and gold threads.

Knockabout hats of crinkled paper and double Berlin wool are very useful, while raffia is cool and attractive-looking with oranges or lemons appliqués on to it with a thick silk stitch. Gay little scarf-tam-o-shanters are being made to hold down stray locks at tennis, which are very picturesque, and, being very inexpensive, one can have quite a collection of them.

In the matter of blouses there is a large choice in Paris. The cross-over blouse is very popular as, under a coat, it gives a long-waist effect and is easy to arrange. There is the handkerchief blouse that is square everywhere, and finishes off on each hip with a loose double knot. A useful blouse for a matron has a V neck that is open, supported by a high collar that closes gently round the throat, and it has a basque that falls flat over the skirt.

Yet another style welcomed by women is the long-sleeved blouse, high neck, and a waterfall of real lace, or a pleating of nixon all down one side. The jumper blouse without any cumbersome fastenings has a large following, as it is so easy to slip on, and is certainly attractive. Made of silk jersey, it is more or less always the same shape, but it varies in stitching, either plain knitting, or purr and plain, and sometimes it has rib-in-two shades, perhaps, orange and lemon—or has an insertion of white ground with coloured flowers woven on it that makes a delightful change.
